

SPROUT JOY WITH HOPE BLOOMS

More than a source of flowers—it's where hope grows, connections flourish and memories bloom.

Our Sprout Joy Community Garden is built and ready to grow for the season. The garden is re-planted each spring and provides vibrant, fresh blooms throughout the growing months. With 10 raised beds, this seasonal garden enhances our repurposed bouquets, supports our mission programs and brings people together through hands-on connection.

From seed to bouquet, volunteers take part in planting, harvesting and arranging flowers that are delivered to those we serve. Along the way, they experience meaningful, therapeutic engagement while making a tangible impact.

These garden-grown blooms often spark fond memories of personal gardens for recipients, offering beauty, comfort and joy. Rooted in our founding story—when our founder Kelly spent cherished summers gardening with her Grandma Freda—this initiative brings our mission full circle by involving the community in every step from growing to gifting.

Sponsorship opportunities are available each growing season and directly support the success of the garden year after year.
